friends in Southeast Missouri dur ing his campaigning for the ticket and mixing with the people of this section. He can continue the good will so heartily necorded him by deferring to the will of the people Democrats Elect Fourteen in making the appointments for the new insane asylum at this place. A popular and meritorious appointment for superintendent of that institution would be Dr. L. T. Hall of Potosi.

The political campaign just closed in this county was, on the part of the Republiedu newspapers and some of the Republican candidates. one of the most malicious ever waged here. They doubtless believed that any means justified the end sought, and conducted their candidates-for Judge of Probate and Judge in the Second District. 200 and 300 behind the vote cast for the head of the ticket in 1900, vote is given elsewhere.

Money continues to pile up in the United States Trensury. In spite of the repeal of the Spanish war taxes, the receipts of the fiscal year exceed the expenditures by $13,539,000, notwithstanding the fact that the present Congress has been one of the most extravagant in the history of the country. In October the surplus was $4,527, (600). Republicans take pride in pointing to this unusual and unnecessary surplus, but what does it mean? That our people are being taxed beyond the most extravagant needs of government. A great tariff tax, not imposed for revenue, but for the protection of favored industries and trusts, is being forced from the pockets of the people, to be piled up in the National treasury and taken out of circulation. It is not a healthful condition and it is not just to the taxpayers. When a people are taxed beyond the actual needs of robbery; but the great combines of capital demand that the protective schedules of the Dingly tariff law shall be maintained, and the party in power is afraid to revise the schedules lest itlantagonize organized capital, and the rank and file of the party are so steeped with partisan prejudice that they back up their leaders at the price of their own undoing.

Under the new methods of teach ing correct spelling appears to be a declining accomplishment. Re cently 141 students from the publie schools of New York took an entrance examination in spelling for the Northwestern University. Of this number 85 missed 20 o more words out of a list of 150 which was fairly selected without special search for the unusual and difficult. The comment of Prof. Clark on the showing is: "As long as the word method of spelling is taught in the public schools, just so long will boys and girls enter college unable to spell correctly.' There is no royal road to the accomplishment of correct spelling. It is something that must be drilled into the pupil, and for this purpose there is no better method than the old one of having the boys and girls stand up and spell the words as they are given out, properly dividing them on the syllables; or having them write the words on slate or tablet, then have the pupils exchange slates and spell the words and mark the misspelt ones It is remarkable how many poor spellers there are even among teachers. A piece of manuscript of a College president recently came under our observation, and we were surprised to note the many misspelt words it contained, Among them the simple word tyrant was spelt "tirent." Such things are a disgrace, and are largely due to the so-called "word" spelling system in vogue in present-day teaching. There is much to be commended in the improvements in pedagogies, but spelling is not one of them. Better go back to the old method, even if it Republicans elected ten of the is a sort of drudgery for the teacher and takes time and patience. Correct spelling is a principal stone in the foundation of a good education, and it should be carefully and firmly laid.
